Our Reviews

Tharinisiri,

I have visited WSA shelter with my friends and family every year. This shelter is a temple for many dogs who are hurt and can't be on the streets. I feel WSA shelter is not just any shelter. Unlike others where the animals are caged, here, they roam freely and happily. Praveen is doing a good job keeping them free. All the animals enjoy their freedom with good, healthy food and a clean environment. The staff is very helpful too. Praveen is doing a really good job. He is a Godfather for the animals.

About Us

Our Mission

To rescue, rehabilitate and rehome animals in crisis, ensure healthy pets through education, advocacy and affordable services, and inspire a community where the animal-human bond is celebrated and nurtured.

Our Vision

Recognition and respect for animal rights in society and provides compassionate care for animals and the people who love them.

About the Founder

Praveen Kumar L also affectionately called Rider Praveen, is an ex-gym instructor who gave up his job, his means of livelihood, all his and his family's assets and savings to start We Save Animals (WSA) Welfare Trust. From paralysed, blind, old-age animals to accident cases, cruelty cases and terminally ill animals - he takes them all in, giving them happiness, food and a home in his shelter.

How it Started?

It started for Praveen in 2013, when he rescued a kitten with a spinal injury. He nursed it at home, but it passed away after a week, leaving Praveen to wonder what he could do to help numerous animals like this, that suffer in silence. So he started by rescuing injured animals, and keeping them at home. Soon, as the number of rescues increased, he started looking for temporary shelters to house them. Eventually, the news of his rescue got around and he started attending to approximately 4-5 cases in a day were People Use to tag him in social media Like Facebook etc. He took the help of Dr. Girish from Blue Cross and Dr. Lohith from Maruthi pet clinic and started an account in their respective clinics, so that injured animals could be attended to, without a delay due to the finances. So as the number of rescues went up, so did the bill amount in the clinics. But that did not deter Praveen. The word spread, and Praveen, who was initially contacted for rescues only around South Bangalore, started getting calls for help for cases in Mysore, Mandya, Chikmagalur Hosur etc. To manage things better, Praveen started a WhatsApp group With Just 6 People And started attending To this cases full-time. He had no option but to give up his job, financial help was low, but with his family standing behind him, praveen kept doing whatever he could for the animals.

RESCUE OF INJURED & OLD STRAY ANIMALS

In a perfect world, every home would have a rescue dog. In most cases, a shelter dog winds up rescuing the person who saved him. Dog adoption is one of the best ways to clear the shelters and enrich your life with a furry new friend.

Rescue dogs are hidden treasures waiting to shine. Not only will a rescue pup help break the cycle of pet overpopulation, but he gets the opportunity to have a long, happy life with you. Though many shelter dogs have had a rough start in life, they are lost souls looking for second chances. The benefits of saving a dog are endless. Older rescue dogs are past the puppy training and nipping years. On the flip side, puppies in shelters haven't had a chance to show the world what they can do.

To celebrate the human-animal bond, we've gathered up 50 of our favorite rescue dog quotes. If you've adopted a dog or know someone who has, these quotes will touch your heartstrings. Share them with family and friends, and feel free to use them in your social media posts.

MEDICAL TREATMENT

For pet owners, veterinarians, and farmers and ranchers, medicines are essential for ensuring animal welfare, preventing diseases from passing between animals and humans, and protecting our food supply.

Vaccines are one of the top tools for keeping animals healthy. Inoculating animals with vaccines protects them from needing later treatment, which reduces animal suffering and losses. These medicines are a safe, proven way to protect animals from diseases like rabies, parvovirus, and E. coli. In turn, this helps protect public health – fewer sick animals and disease outbreaks means a reduced chance of transmitting illnesses from animals to people.

Pharmaceuticals help animals live longer, higher-quality lives by addressing infections, diabetes, obesity, pain, cancer and age-related diseases. Just as humans rely on doctors to diagnose ailments and prescribe treatments, animals need veterinarians to manage many types of pharmaceutical treatments.

REHABILITATION CENTRE

Wildlife rehabilitation organizations are also increasingly recognized for their potential to contribute to disease surveillance, including diseases of importance to domestic animal and human health as well as emerging threats. Until recently, platforms for sharing information among organizations have been lacking, resulting in missed opportunities to detect unusual events when sick animals are brought to multiple, uncoordinated centres across a region.

Wildlife rehabilitation organizations are also increasingly recognized for their potential to contribute to disease surveillance, including diseases of importance to domestic animal and human health as well as emerging threats. Until recently, platforms for sharing information among organizations have been lacking, resulting in missed opportunities to detect unusual events when sick animals are brought to multiple, uncoordinated centres across a region.

In addition, efforts to use rehabilitation data to contribute to disease surveillance have previously focused on verified diagnostic data rather than clinical pre-diagnostic data, limiting the information's use to contribute to early detection. When linked through a formal network, these organizations have the potential to assimilate and share large amounts of clinical data in near real-time, collectively representing a highly valuable and under-used resource that can be used to complement existing surveillance efforts for early and enhanced detection. In this study, we aimed to develop and pilot an online surveillance system that integrates pre-diagnostic clinical health data entered in near real-time by a network of wildlife rehabilitation organizations to facilitate early and enhanced detection of wildlife morbidity and mortality events

ADOPTION

ACTIVE ADOPTION: Take home any of the shelter animals that are put up for adoption. You can get in touch with WSA via phone, email or any other social media. Walk into the centre any day between 10:00 a.m. to 5 p.m. to meet all the wet noses and wagging tails. Trust us, you'd have never seen so much happiness under one roof!

PASSIVE ADOPTION: This is a way of adoption where you'll be adopting any animal in shelter and be a parent. You will need to pay a minimum amount on a monthly basis, and we will look after them in the shelter. These are those animals which cannot be sent to homes due to the nature of their ailment or disability which needs constant medical attention.

You can help WSA by sponsoring the monthly stay, food and basic medicines of any of the rescued animals at a fee mentioned below:

- Dogs - ₹1500 monthly and ₹50 per day
- Cows and Calf - ₹2000 monthly and ₹66 per day
- Goat and Sheep - ₹1000 monthly and ₹33 per day
- Cats - ₹900 monthly and ₹30 per day

VOLUNTEER

Volunteers are the biggest support for our shelter. They visit WSA whenever they can and during times in need. They help in cleaning the shelter, grooming our animals, treating, feeding and pampering them. During vaccination drives, sterilization camps, awareness camps and many other programs, volunteers play a very important role. We would love it if more volunteers join us! There is always the need for an extra helping hand. If interested, please contact WSA.
